

Weyburn Police Service
Media Release for January 29, 2018 – February 11, 2018

January 29

At about 11:10 am the Weyburn PS received a complaint regarding an assault that occurred in a downtown business. Upon investigating it was learned that the incident was about inappropriate comments being made. The matter was mediated and no further police involvement was necessary.

The Weyburn PS has received numerous complaints over the past 1-2 weeks about the theft of property from recreational vehicles in storage. These complaints are currently under investigation. We would suggest that anyone who has an RV in commercial storage may want to verify with the storage facility that there RV's are secure, and if not please report this to the Weyburn PS.

January 30

At about 10:25 pm, the Weyburn PS received information about a domestic assault. The matter was investigated and as a result of that investigation both the female and male involved have been charged with Assault Causing Bodily Harm.

January 31

Over the past 1-2 weeks the Weyburn PS has received numerous complaints of vehicles having been rummaged through and various items taken. This has been occurring predominantly in the East area of the City. Once again we remind residents that the simple prevention of this offence is to lock your vehicles. We have not had a single complaint of a vehicle having been damaged to gain entry if the door is locked. These are crimes of opportunity and if the easy target (unlocked vehicle) is not there the people simply move down the road to the next easy target. This is a totally preventable offence, but it takes the co-operation of everyone involved.

At about 7:40 am a person in the 200 Block of 1st Avenue NW was attacked by a dog. The person suffered a bite and had to be treated at the hospital. Whenever a person is bit by an unknown animal it becomes a potential public health issue to locate the animal to determine if it has had all the shots and it otherwise healthy. We are looking for public assistance in identifying this animal described as:

- brown mixed colour, German Shepherd – Pitbull cross
- no collar

If anyone can assist in identifying this animal and the owner they are asked to contact either Public Health at 306-842-8623, the Weyburn Police Service or to call Crime Stoppers at 1-800-222-8477.
